A Message from Our Sponsor

Tesco Ireland is once again extremely proud to be sponsoring the National Minor All-Ireland Championship in 2022.

When partnering with the Camogie Association, our goal was to make a meaningful impact as a sponsor, shining a spotlight on the game and helping to inspire and empower young players through their development.

In partnership with the Camogie Association, we aim to engage with our network of stores in the communities that we serve and partnering with local Camogie Clubs to activate their initiatives over the lifetime of our agreement.

In keeping with the Camogie Association ethos of inspiring young women and girls to play and empowering them to stay in the sport, Tesco will seek to bring community involvement to the forefront of this partnership. Over the past two years our partnership with the Camogie Association, has enabled us to engage and support communities across the country through some very difficult times.

For our finalists, this weekend, is the ultimate step on a journey of commitment, dedication and sacrifice, and determination that you have shown over the last months on your journey to become 2022 All Ireland Minor Champions. I am delighted to welcome all the supporters over the two weekends of finals and would like to wish all 6 teams the best of luck.

Customer Director

Fáilte ón Uachtarán

Hilda Breslin, President of the Camogie Association

I would like to welcome you all here this afternoon to Round Towers, Tang and Derrytresk for the Tesco All-Ireland Minor Championships Finals.

In the Tesco All-Ireland Minor B Championship final, it is an all-Leinster affair as Laois will play Offaly after both teams impressed in their Semi-Final victories.

Laois had a comprehensive victory over Kildare in their Semi-Final, while Offaly also had a big margin of victory over their Semi-Final opponents, Meath.

In the Minor C final Mayo will play Wicklow after both counties went unbeaten throughout the campaign en route to today's final.

Wicklow scored four goals in their Semi-Final victory over Cavan, while Mayo managed seven goals in their win over Tyrone in the Semi-Final.

In the Minor C Shield final, Louth will take on Donegal, with both counties coming through Group 1 to get to today's final. Louth had a comprehensive win over their opponents in the group stages so Donegal will be looking to avenge that result when they face-off this afternoon.

This should be an exciting weekend of Minor Camogie action, with many two counties hungry for an All-Ireland title. To represent your county is a huge honour for any player and I would like to congratulate all players today for their commitment and dedication to the game and wish them the best of luck.

May I take this opportunity to highlight the support of our title sponsors Tesco Ireland who have done another fantastic job supporting our players and our Championships this year.

Míle buíochas to the personnel at Round Towers, Tang and Derrytresk and I wish our match officials the very best of luck.

Le meas,

Hilda Breslin
